CALL CONTIDENTIAL PART

Office Tylemoranaum • United States Government

TO : Assistant Director for Research and Reports DATE: 14 February 1952

FROM : Chairman, Committee on EIC and ONE Support

SUBJECT: Report and Recommendations

25X1A9a

This committee has considered in some detail the many problems involved in the efficient handling and coordination of projects within ORR involving the KIC and ONE.

2. The basic problems considered by the consistee were the following:

A. EIC Support.

- a. Initiation of projects in the Economic Intelligence Committee.
- b. The assignment of production responsibilities.
- c. The initiation of MIC projects in ORR.
- d. The control of production in ORR.
- The establishment of uniform procedures for circulation of working papers.
- The establishment and maintenance of central files and records.
- g. The format, editing, reproduction, and distribution of papers at various stages of production.
- h. The publication of EIC papers.
- i. EIC Status Report.

B. ONE Support.

- a. ORR ONE Liadson.
- b. Allocation of responsibility within ORR for implementing ONE requests.
- c. Coordination of research.
- d. Coordination of production.

C. Personnel Requirements.

3. The Committee was in general agreement that a vacuum exists at the present time in the coordination of RIC production within ORR and that a more efficient method for handling OME support is indicated. The attachments summarise the Committee's proposals. It is recommended that the substance of these proposals, if approved, be published as an office regulation and/or be incorporated in a general operating procedure covering all aspects of project initiation and control within ORR.

CONFIDENTIAL

SECURITY INFORMATION

h. There is no prevision in the current B/R 2/O (including the few slets authorised cutside the 1/O) for the processing of EIC papers in preparation in ORR nor does this 1/O cover the editorial and publication responsibilities delegated to D/R recently by the EIC. The magnitude of the additional services contemplated by this countities and by the assumption of EIC publication responsibilities is such that immediate expansion of the 1/O and the assignment of additional percennel are urgently indicated. It is believed that these responsibilities cannot be assumed by D/R and carried on simultaneously with its present mission without seriously impairing its effectiveness and delaying the progress of the ORR research program. In particular, there is meeded the prospet appointment of a person of high caliber to head the Project Initiation and Control Branch of D/R. Additional editorial personnel will also be needed.

- 5. The Chief, D/R, will submit separately a detailed estimate of his personnel needs.
- 6. The review of ONE limison indicates the need for making additional provision for this responsibility in the Office of the AD/RR.
